IRON BENCH PRO Made in Italy
IRON BENCH PRO is the multifunctional and professional bench, the evolution of the IRON BENCH.

This product combines the adjustable bench with the Iron bench. Iron Bench Pro offers the possibility to perform all the exercises one would do on a regular bench, but also functional training exercises such as plyometrics, explosive jumps. Its substantial weight makes it solid and stable

K PILATES

Our K PILATES line of pilates machines is designed to meet the needs of every pilates studio and fitness centre.

Designed according with Joseph Pilates' original instructions, the K PILATES machines offer comfort and safety during every training session, while presenting an elegant and refined design that fits in with the aesthetics of every pilates studio or gym.

Ideal for both professionals and beginners, the equipment is handcrafted from premium materials that are strong and durable to ensure maximum performance and product longevity.

REVORING

The beauty of REVORING TRAINING SYSTEM as can be seen from the photos I sent you here is that it does not require a special structure but adapts to the needs of the room training can be organized on or around a functional training rack station / castle, with hooks from the ceiling or from the wall;

training can also be done outdoors or with bodyweight.

If you decide to set a room and if the room has square and rectangular dimensions and is an open space, my advice is to arrange hooks to the wall and ceiling (similar to those of the trx).

The REVORING TRAINING concept and method has been studied on three different heights:

Total Gym, a pioneer in

FUNCTIONAL TRAINING

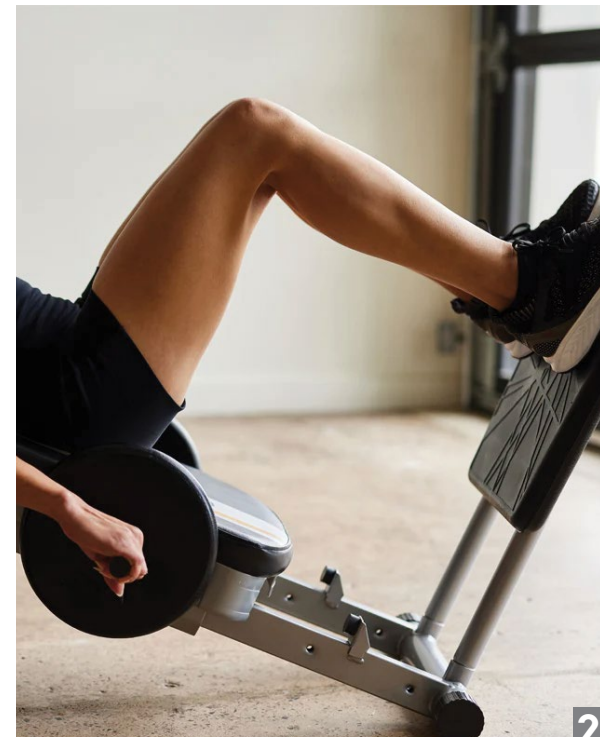

since 1974, has revolutionized fitness with its versatile bodyweight-based equipment.

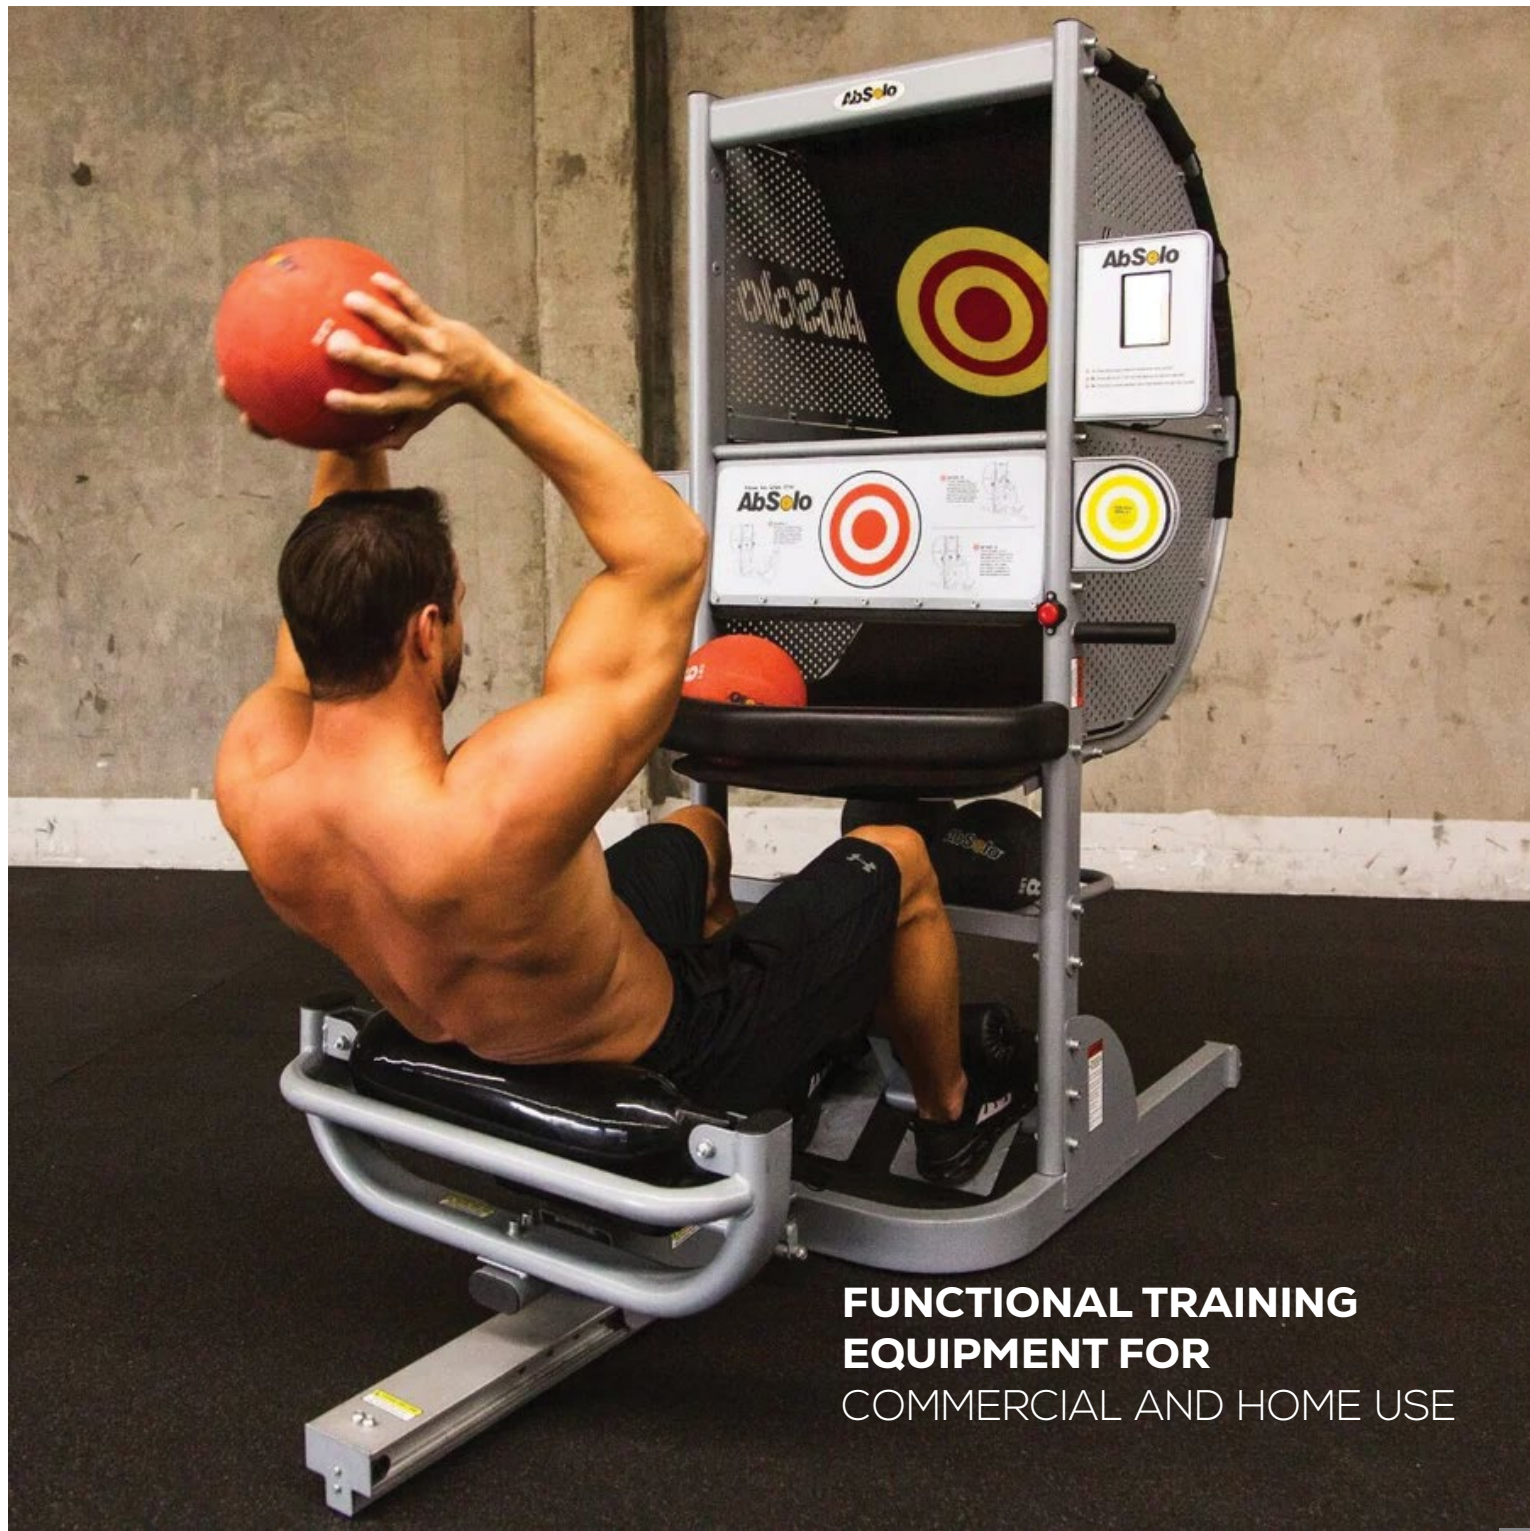

Their products cater to diverse needs, including home fitness, commercial training, and physical therapy, delivering effective solutions for users of all fitness levels. Total Gym serves over 24 million workouts annually, empowering elite fitness studios, rehabilitation centers, and homes worldwide.

Through innovative programs like the GRAVITY Training System, Total Gym optimizes group fitness experiences with efficient, multifunctional workouts that encompass strength, endurance, and mindful movement. This commitment to innovation and quality continues to make Total Gym a leader in the global fitness industry.

In professional sport

REST AND RECOVERY

play a paramount role, as much as training and effort. If adequately integrated in athletes' preparation programs, they allow not only to achieve top performance in a short time, but also to maintain it in the medium to long term

This is the reason why, today, the actual focus – which makes the real difference in performance and, as a consequence, in the results of sport clubs and teams – is precisely recovery.

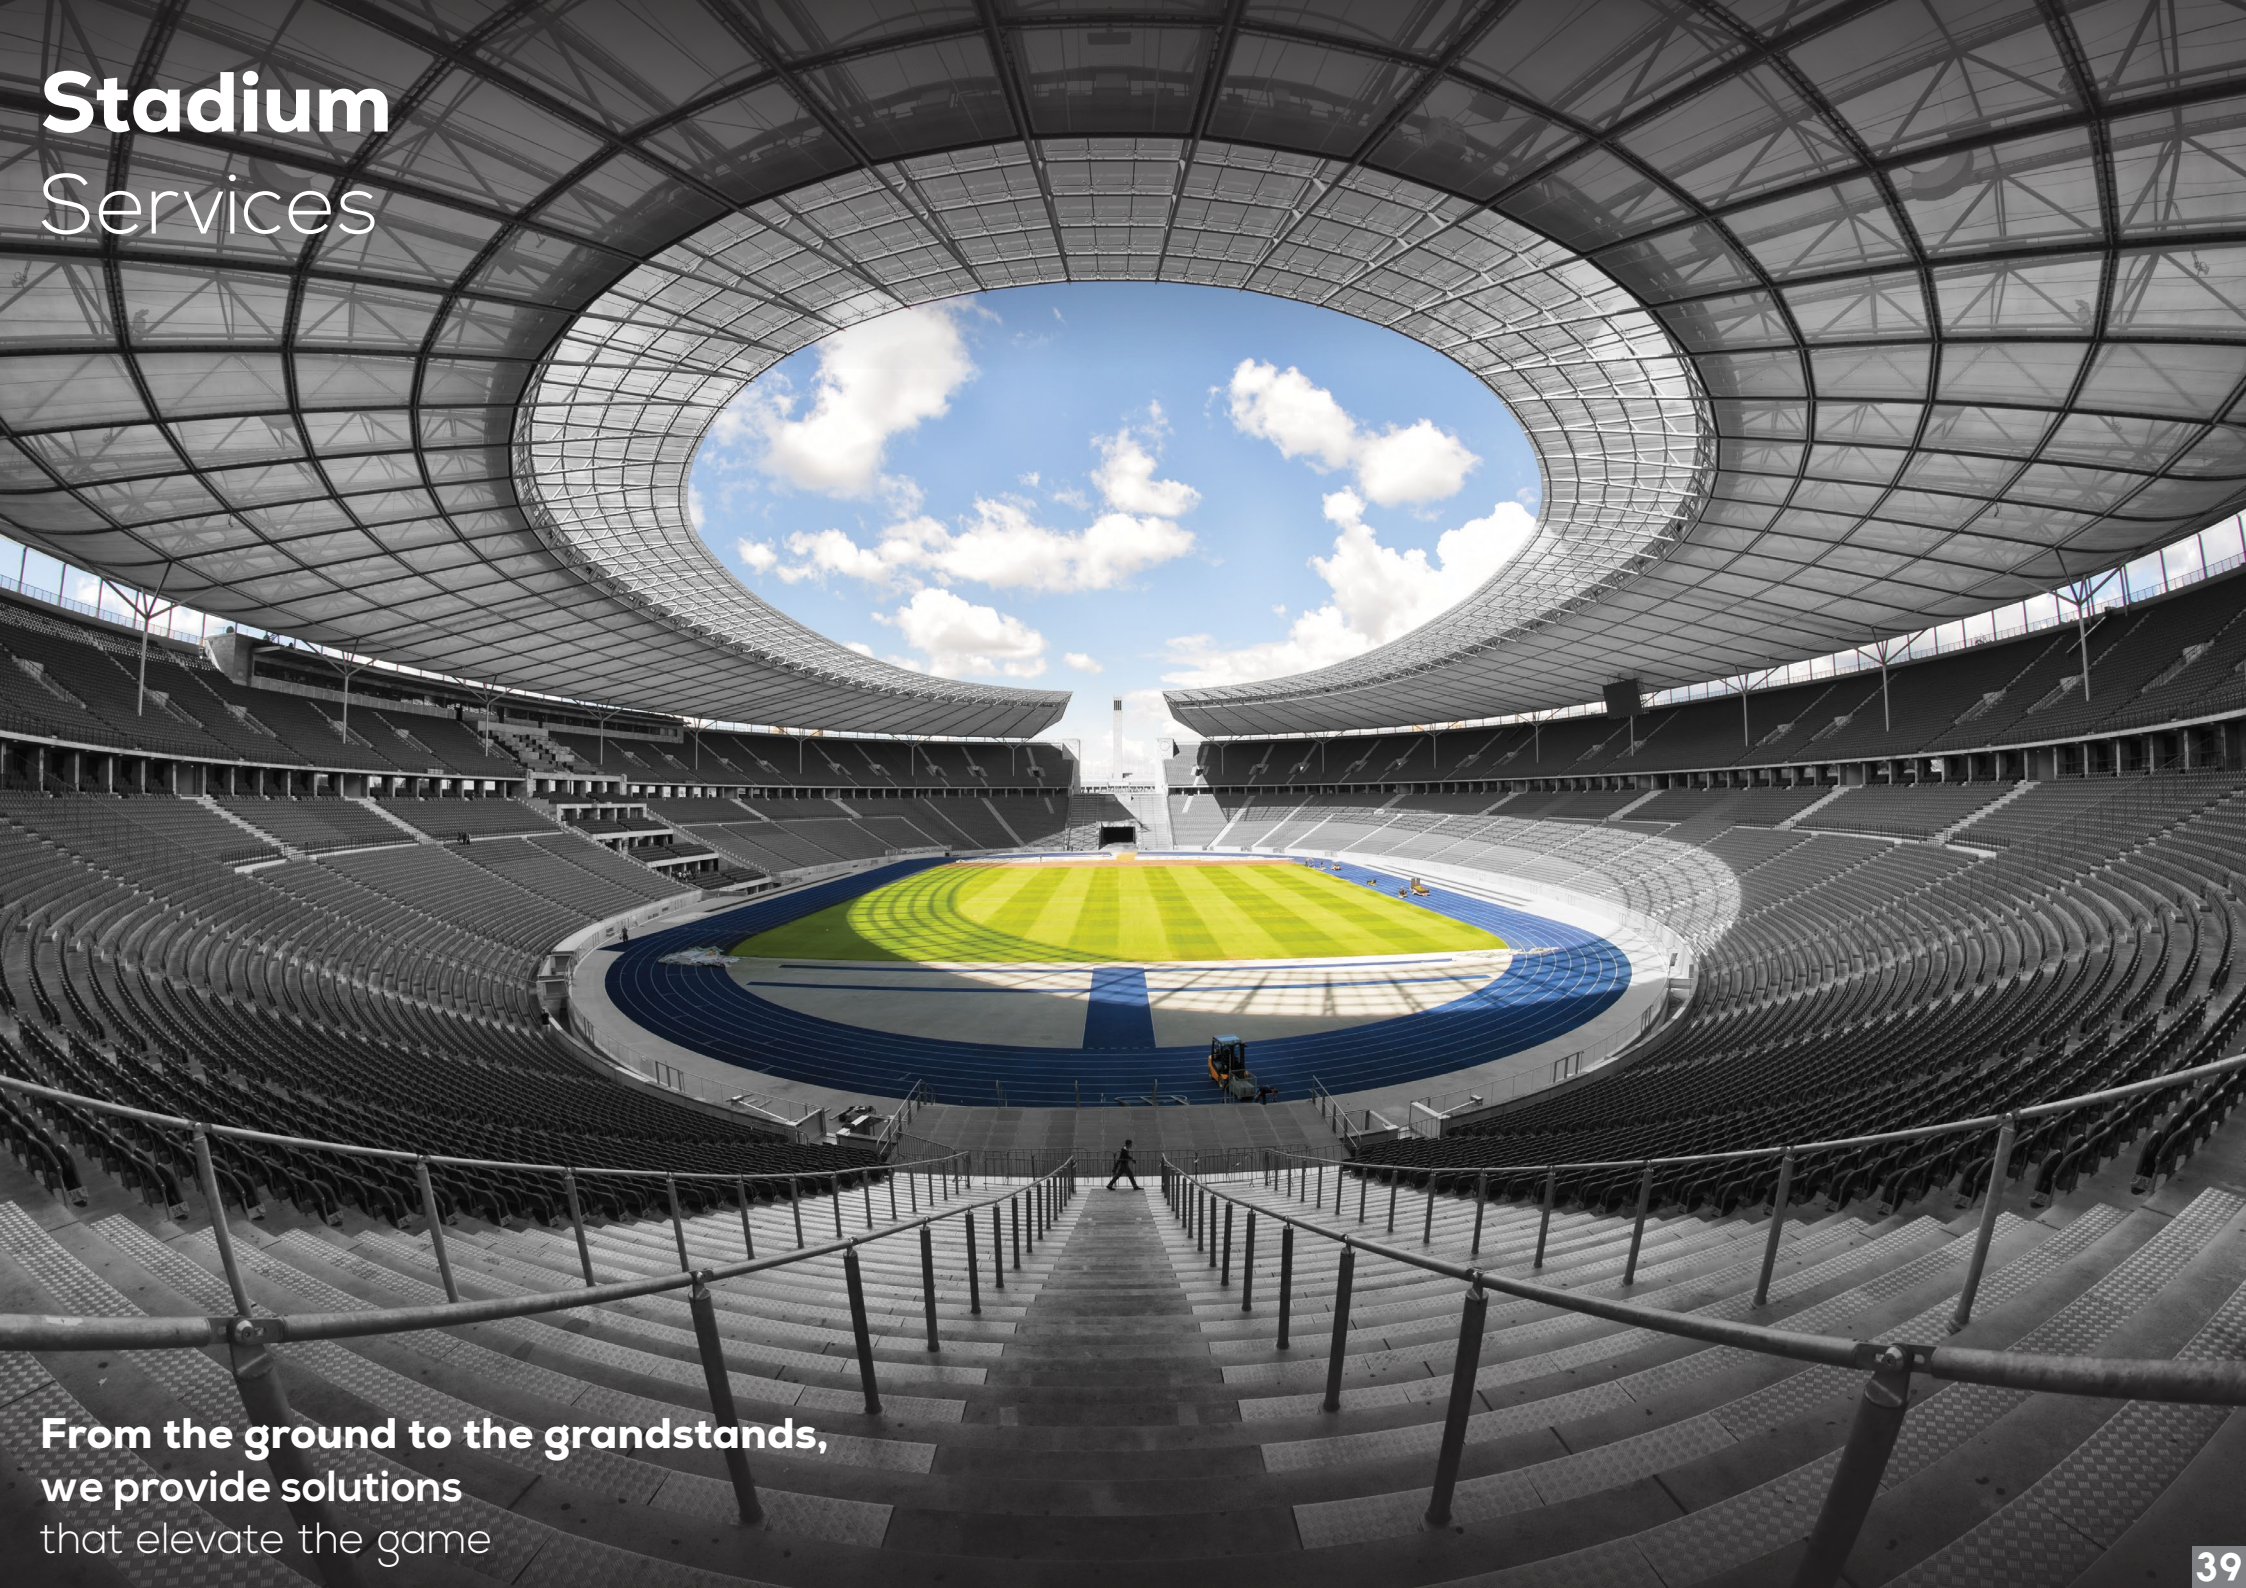

Padel Court Design

It's about the result: years of carefree padel fun.

Every demand for padel courts requires a tailor-made solution. we commit ourselves to this every day, worldwide.

Turf maintenance solutions

We are changing the world of artificial turf for good with our Green Technology: In addition to renewable raw materials, we now also use recycled materials for the two different fibre types, which give LigaTurf Cross GTR its inimitable football turf feel and sensational volume. The straight filaments contain at least 20 % recycled plastics, while the textured fibres are made of up to 80 % organically based plastic (I'm Green™ PE), a by-product of sustainable agriculture.

The production process is greener too: We use up to 100 % green electricity in the production of LigaTurf Cross GTR. The result is a low-maintenance, durable artificial turf for training and sports facilities that not only fulfils the requirements of professional athletes, but elevates climate protection and sustainability to a new level in the world of artificial turf systems.
